Invoice Details: Hickey is 5 kg - in good condition

Was treated with NexGard combo - please continue once a month

On day of presentation - no indications of injury

Hickey suffers from severe gingivitis his teeth are in good condition

Other factors that can contribute to gingivitis in cats include:

Age: Older cats are more likely to develop gingivitis

Dental care: Cats that don't receive regular dental care, such as brushing or cleanings, are more likely to develop gingivitis

Diet: A low-fiber diet can contribute to gingivitis

Teeth: Crowded or misaligned teeth can increase the risk of gingivitis

Infectious diseases: Feline leukemia virus (FeLV), feline immunodeficiency virus (FIV), or feline calicivirus can cause gingivitis - requested info about tests (2 test minimum 1 m appart)

Autoimmune disorders: Autoimmune diseases can increase the risk of gingivitis

Genetic tendencies: Some cats are more likely to develop dental problems due to genetics treatment - symptomatic for gingivitis advice :

- confirm FIV/FeLV status of cat after neuter

- up date vaccinations and start with Felv vacc

Patient History for Hickey

- regular flea control
