Comments:	The owner arrived at the SPCA the day after the seizure took place . The dog was taken to the vet the previous week and is on treatment. The treatment was handed over to us and was admisitered that same day. He advised that his wife was recently in a car accident. The complainant also keeps on calling non stop, wanting to adopt the seized animal. I discussed with Emma and hospital, I will contact the owner tomorrow to discuss the way forward. He has to either pay R3 000 (includes the pound fees, biopsy and growth removal) or seek private veterinary attention before the dog may be returned.
