Comments:	Upon arrival I met with the manager of the shop. I asked him about the authorisation from the city to sell animals, whereby he said they enquired by the council office and was sent around to 10 different people, but could not find anything to do about it. I told him its fine, I will close it as per they made effort to comply. I then inspected the fire extinguishers,whereby there were 2 fire extinguishers in the shop and both were up to date. I took a look through the shop and inspected the animals. All the animal enclosures are clean and not overcrowded. The animals are in good condition, no sick or injured animals found. They have somewhat pest control measures in place, as they have closed up the drains on the property and have different traps for pests set up. I did educate them that they will need to start having proper control measures, such as possibly having a company come in to do it or to take record of their measures. As a result, the shop has complied with all the contraventions set out to them on the compliance notice issued. Therefore, the case can be closed, NFA.
