Comments:	I called the owner via telviva to inform her what the vet said, I informed the owner as per the vet (Dr Revona) if the medication that was prescribed didn't work then the dogs skin is most likely damaged from to much exposure of the sun and theres nothing they can do now, it was recommended by the vet to keep the dog out the sun and keep using the pet sunblock, the owner is currently using the sunblock as prescribed, I will do a final follow-up in a months time
