Dear Mr. Lottering

We had discussions regarding our meeting last week and came to the following conclusion .

The fees to be paid for the dogs to be released can be brought down to R10 000. This is already a big drop in the price so unfortunately so unfortunately it will have to be paid in order for the dogs to be released - this will go hand-in-hand with a strict release agreement, should they be released.

I also discussed the prospects of your doing other campaigns for the SPCA to go towards the funds of the dogs but it will not be possible either.

Please let me know by Friday for the latest if you will be able to settle this amount. If you are unable to do so by Friday 25 April 2025, 15h00, then we will consider that your claim to the animals is relinquished and the SPCA will do with the animals as they see fit.
