Dear Dr Lauren

The property caretaker, granted us access to conduct the inspection. She guided the inspector through the entire property, which currently houses 17 horses, 10 dogs of assorted breeds, and 6 ducks. All animals have access to clean water, appropriate shelter, and a hygienic living environment. The dogs and ducks appear to be in good health.

Out of the 17 horses, four are underweight due to a recent worm infestation. However, all horses were tested by a laboratory for worm infestations a week ago. Those requiring treatment have received it. The horses are currently being fed Lucerne, oat hay, Spurwing feed, Max Gut supplement for digestive health, and Capstone balancer.

All horses have shiny coats, indicating positive progress in their recovery. Full recovery is expected within one to two months. Proof of veterinary treatment was provided at the time of the inspection. A follow-up inspection to assess the horses' condition is scheduled for one month from now.
