General Report Comments: I spoke with the caretaker of the dog, an elderly pensioner named Neville, who appeared to have a speech impediment and was slow to respond to my questions.

He told me that the dog had been knocked by a car, but could not give me the day. The dog was being kept in a dark room which had a waterbowl and a food bowl with food in it. The dog howled when I tried to touch it on its flank. I encouraged the caretaker to sign the dog over to us, which he did. After I explained to him that the dog was in pain and needed to see a Veterinarian. He acquiesced. I managed to cradle the dog in a towel and carried it to the vehicle.

Dog was admitted on admission form A58626
