Comments We carried out another inspection at this site . No contraventions observed during the time of the inspection. After the minor hickups yesterday, everything had been rectified and we did not have any further issues with tbe owner.

The finished slaughtering and/or selling all of the animals they had on tbe farm. No more animals left and we do not have to return to the site again tomorrow.

A post inspection to be done and a warning to be issued to ensure the owner puts up adequate and sufficient shelter for all animals before he gets more in next year .
