Comments, if any:

Upon arrival the owner allowed us access to the property and we observed that two dogs have been placed on approximately 5 meter running chains and there was also water available to the dogs, there was also adequate shelter available to the dogs as the dog named Roxy sleeps inside the house with the owners. The Pitbull named Captain was still statically chained and we noticed that there are small lesions on the dogs genital area that may be cancerous.

We informed the owner that the dog will need to be seen by a veterinarian for consultation and diagnosis.

Inspector Davids issued a warning to:

- 1. Take dog named Captain to a veterinary clinic within 96 hours and provide proof thereof.
