Comments: Today at 12:45, Mr. N. Manassa came to the office requesting to speak with the Chief Inspector or someone in a higher authority. I assisted him and asked how I could be of help.

Mr. Manassa explained that he feels victimised and harassed by the SPCA. He demanded to know who the complainant was and stated that he feels we are being used as "puppets." He further mentioned that Law Enforcement officials have been to his property, and he does not believe he should be pressured into sterilising his animals. According to him, the law requires that animals in one's care must remain intact.

He stated that his Boerboels are registered and well cared for. When asked, he confirmed he does have documentation to prove their registration. He also mentioned that there are two dogs currently on the property, and that a third dog is no longer there.

When I attempted to ask about the treatment of one of the dogs, Mr. Manassa repeatedly spoke over me. He requested that someone in charge contact him directly and also asked for a letter on the organisation's letterhead confirming his visit to the office today, which he said he wants to present to Law Enforcement if they return to his property.

As an alternative, I provided him with one of our official stickers containing the organisation's details. I wrote my full name, surname, as well as the date and time of his visit on it, to serve as proof of his attendance at the office.
