Dear Mrs Crook

Thank you for your email below and informing us what condition the dogs are in.

We would however like to remind you of the Release Agreement that you entered into with the SPCA , especially Section 1 (a)(i), which refers to Condition for Return of Animals:

"The Owner shall ensure that both dogs receive veterinary treatment for their chronic skin conditions. Both dogs must be returned to the SPCA hospital weekly for re-examination by the attending veterinarian until the veterinarian is satisfied that the treatment is working. Thereafter, it is your responsibility to ensure the dogs receive timeous veterinary treatment should the skin condition recur or flare up again."

Failure to comply with the above may result in your dogs being removed from your property and you may forfeit the chance of getting them back.
