Good day Roxanne

We have received information regarding a dog which appears to have a penile prolapse due to what the owner is describing. She says that her dog was dripping blood for a few days and then mated yesterday and this morning his penis prolapsed. She says he is eating and alert but says there is some liquid coming from the penis area.

She unfortunately didn't want to surrender the dog to SPCA and I advised her that we do not collect animals for medical treatment. She said she will then take her dog to the vet tomorrow. Please would you follow up to see if the dog has been taken for treatment.

Address : P17 Blikkiesdorp
Owner : Sabrina Jones

Kind regards

Tamryn
