Dear Denise

Thank you for your email.

An inspection was carried out at the premises on 9 September 2025. During the visit, the Inspector found that the dogs had access to clean water, adequate shelter, food, and were kept in a clean environment. The animals observed were in fair to good condition, with one already sterilised. The Inspector will be conducting a follow-up inspection to ensure continuity of care and to check on the third dog that was not present at the time of the initial visit

We understand your concerns regarding the dogs being unsterilised, potentially being bred, or being pregnant. Unfortunately, matters relating to sterilisation, breeding, and the keeping of unsterilised dogs fall under the jurisdiction of Law Enforcement in terms of municipal by-laws. The SPCA does not have the legal authority to enforce these provisions, and therefore, we cannot take action in this regard. Please contact Law Enforcement on 021 480 7700 to report these matters. If you do not get any joy, please send me the Law Enforcement reference numbers, and I will escalate the matter to their superiors.

Please be assured that our Inspectors remain committed to monitoring the welfare of these dogs to ensure that they are not subjected to neglect or cruelty. Should any welfare concerns arise, immediate action will be taken within the scope of our mandate.

Thank you once again for your concern for the welfare of animals – your voice helps us continue protecting them where the law empowers us to do so.

Kind regards

Chief Inspector Jaco Pieterse
