Comments:	I called Carmen to obtain more information. She mentioned that she was not fully aware that the owners had moved out, but heard this from the neighbours. However, she did hear the dog howling and crying for a couple of nights, which made her concerned. She asked around, but no one had seen anyone coming to the house to feed the dog. Carmen managed to lower some food in a bowl onto the ground for the dog, but when she tried to lower a water bowl, the dog started growling and tearing the bucket apart, clearly showing signs of distress. She said she would try to get a metal bowl and assistance to put water down for the dog. She also mentioned that the dog is somewhat aggressive, and they are too scared to climb the fence to enter the property.
