Good afternoon

I trust this email finds you well.

Law Enforcement were supposed to stop by today to check whether we complied with getting our female dog sterilized. We have waited the whole morning and they have not shown up .

We postponed our appointments for the morning , unfortunately we can't wait the whole day.
I have attached the receipt as proof that she has been sterilized.

I know that this is not your jurisdiction, but I would hate for them to show up and we are not here and then it causes more problems.

Kind regards
