Comments:	We have reopened this case, as the complainant remains concerned and distressed about the welfare of the animals. We understand that she would have preferred for the SPCA to remove the animals ; however, our actions must be guided by the findings of the investigation and the relevant legislative requirements. The concerns raised relate to the animals allegedly living in dirty and unhygienic conditions. In light of the renewed concerns, the matter will be reassessed, and the welfare of the animals will be reviewed accordingly.
