Hi Jaco

See below details of a trailer company where a cow was tethered during transit on one of their trailers. The owner of the company has no issue giving us the details of the person who hired the trailer in order for us to take appropriate action. However, he wants an email from a Supervisor stating the reason for the request to cover himself in terms of POPI Act, though Yaaseen explained to him that the POPIA would not apply in a matter like this. Can I email him with the request? Or do you want to mail from your law firm email?

Please let us know - thanks.
