Comments:	I called the owner Praline who informed me that they had not taken the dog to the vet yet, however they are planning to take it tomorrow morning. I explained to her that the dog is actively suffering and they need to take the dog by first thing tomorrow morning to the vet for treatment. I asked her if she rather doesnt want to surrender the dog but she replied no. I informed her that should they not take the dog to the vet by earliest tomorrow then I will proceed with further legal action. She understood and said she will ensure that the dog gets sorted. I will do the follow up tomorrow morning
