General Report Comments: I was allowed access to the property by Bryan, the owner of the dog. He told me that they had been walking the dog yesterday, named Rex. We. A pitbull came up from behind and tried to bite him. The attack was unsuccessful as Rex managed to evade the pitbull. The only injury was a nip on its nose, close to its eye. The wound had closed up since then. The owner had cleaned it with salt water. The dogs eye was not injured or affected in any way. Because the owner had already treated the dog and it appeared to have recovered, I saw no need to issue a warning wrt vet treatment, as the owner had treated the animal.

At the time of the attack, the owners mother was so traumatized that she sought help from the SPCA.

I told the owner to continue monitoring the dog and to contact us if he notices any changes.

The dog was in a fair condition and has access to a kennel, water and the living area was clean.

I will follow up in a week as to the dogs condition.
