Hello, I didn't have my phone with me, I was running past. There was no sign with the security company name. There is no justification for it to be a working dog!? Its at a cleansing dept! And surely being confined in a cage on its own is cruel? I know there is no abuse as such but I think the situation is abusive. I know you have a lot worse to deal with but I still feel this is unacceptable.

I have once before, years ago, taken pics of a dog there and they intimidated me by closing the gate and I had to run out. I sent the pics to the SPCA at that time. You will probably find nothing wrong with the dog which looked like an old German Shepherd. Its not mistreated as such, it is just wrong for it to be in a cage.

Sending you the address now.
